STAMP MILLS

We have built the largest stamp mill in Colorado, comprising all steel buildings, and a two-mile wire rope tram, with steel terminal buildings. All machinery driven by electric motors.

CONCENTRATING MACHINERY

Richards Pulsator Jigs and Classifiers. The most important inventions in the field of ore concentration in the past fifteen years. The remarkable claims we make for these machines are fully substantiated by the performance of numerous machines in successful operation.

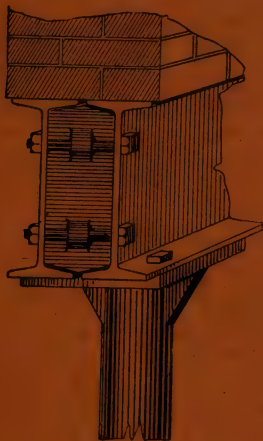

THE ISBELL CONCENTRATOR

The most radical departure in table construction that has been made in 50 years. The Isbell Concentrator is a reciprocating motion table, but there is no cross wash water. Combines the functions of a jig, a classifier, a concentrator and a vanner. Will treat a mixed feed of 1-8 of an inch to slime and save as much of the slime as any slime table. The capacity of this concentrator is greater than any table on the market.

INTRODUCTORY

1915

I present this, the forty-third edition of the Denver City Directory. It has the advantage of the experience of a competent and experienced corps of skilled directory makers, and it is issued with the confidence that it is equal to any similar publication in existence. The Directory has kept pace with this city. It has grown and improved from year to year, and, like the metropolis which it represents, it is an up-to-date and reliable exponent of the citizens, their institutions and organizations.

The success of a community is measured by its growth and population. It is a highly important matter to know whether a city is growing or decreasing in population. The Directory is an infallible indication of the city's growth or decrease, as the case may be.

This volume shows that the city has not only held its own in population, but progressed in material wealth, in the beauty of its homes, its streets and public buildings, and in all things that tend to convenience in business and to pleasure in life. Its growth and increase, and its reputation and conditions, are attracting men of wealth and culture, who are daily locating in Denver on account of its unequaled educational facilities, its invigorating and healthful climate, the beauty of its dwelling districts, the opportunity for investment and profit, the culture of its society, and many means offered for recreation and amusement.

It is a city of high ideals, without slums, without poverty, a city with large manufacturing and commercial institutions, splendid schools and churches, beautiful homes, magnificent streets and prosperous suburbs.

Thanking the public for their liberal support and co-operation to make a work of this kind possible.

Very respectfully yours,

WILL H. RICHARDS.

BALLENGER & RICHARDS

STREET AND AVENUE
GUIDE

TO THE
CITY OF DENVER

Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1908 by

BALLENGER & RICHARDS

In the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington

EXPLANATION TO STREET GUIDE.

It will be noticed that in this Street Guide the names of the streets are mentioned in alphabetical order, giving the course in which they run, as near as possible, to all points of the compass, and enumerating all streets which cross the same in the order in which they occur, except on such streets as are crossed by numeral streets or avenues exclusively.

The decimal system of numbering being adopted, one hundred numbers are assigned to each square, giving one number to each twelve and one-half feet, or two numbers to each lot of twenty-five feet, beginning at the Platte River on the west at 0, and 100 at First street, increasing northeasterly on Larimer and all streets running parallel.

Streets crossing Larimer are numbered from Broadway increasing northwesterly. On Broadway and on streets running parallel with same the numbers increase northward and southward from Ellsworth avenue at 0. Avenues crossing Broadway are numbered east and west from Broadway at 0, prefixing the word West to that portion of the avenue west of Broadway, as follows: West Twelfth avenue would apply to that part of Twelfth avenue west of Broadway.

All West avenues run parallel with West Colfax avenue and from West Sixteenth avenue north to West Fifty-second avenue are located north and west of the Platte River. All other avenues run parallel to Colfax avenue.

For convenience in locating the streets and avenues, we have used the most prominent streets, avenues, boulevards and the Platte River as locating points.

The Basic Principles of Spinal Adjustments

DR. J. HAMILTON JONES
Chiropractor

Graduate of Dr. D. D. Palmer, discoverer and founder of Chiropractic. Having many years of experience, and a very large practice, is a specialist in modern specific Spinal Adjustments, using new, original methods—new coil expansion compress adjustment, and other methods, accomplishing adjustments in this manner where otherwise impossible. Also, together with compresses, when necessary, in softening tissues, greatly aiding in removing ankylosis, relaxing ligaments and muscles, and where there is great contracture and soreness of the spine, thereby permitting the replacement or adjustment of subluxated vertebra with a minimum of discomfort, which is marvelous and effectual in giving immediate relief in many obstinate and chronic cases.

WHY NOT BE WELL?

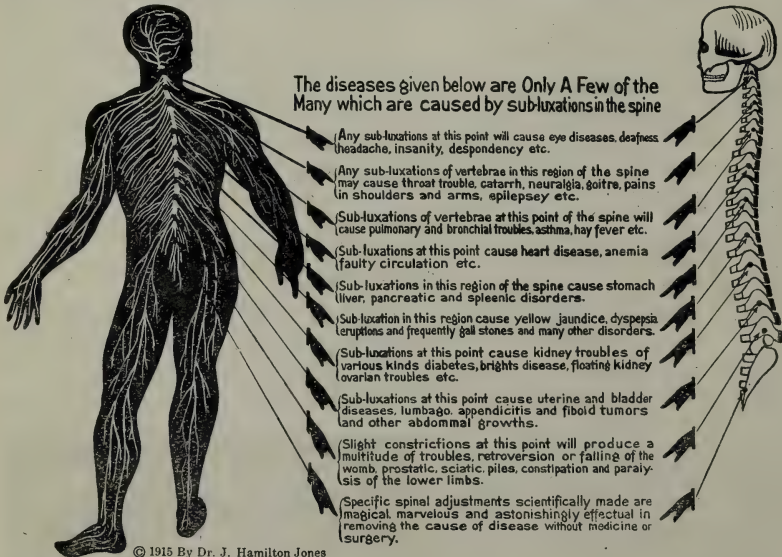

NO MEDICINE

NO SURGERY

NERVES ARE LIFE

All nerves originate in the brain, converge at its base, forming the spinal cord, which passes out of the skull through an opening called the foramen-magnum into and through the center of the spinal column. From the spinal cord, nerve filaments emerge on each side of the spinal column through a small opening between each consecutive pair of vertebrae, from whence they proceed to the parts and organs into which they severally terminate. The vitality and activity of every organ, tissue and cell of the body is maintained and controlled by an inherent force or energy which is transformed or individualized by the brain and then transmitted, by nerves, to their respective parts and organs.

 Chart of Specific Ramifications of the spinal nervous system, showing zones of disease as indicated by impinged nerves. Drawn and practiced by J. HAMILTON JONES, Doctor of Chiropractic.

Denver, April 10th, 1915.

Gentlemen:

This is written to express our appreciation of the manner in which you handled our last issue of 100,000 catalogues.

Although we were responsible for some considerable delay on our end of the work, you made the first delivery well within the time specified, and all subsequent deliveries in larger quantities than contracted for.

Our greatest satisfaction is due to the increased business which this catalogue has brought us, and we sincerely believe that result is due to the very excellent color plates and printing in this book.

The color reproductions of the hats, shoes and samples of cloth were so absolutely true to life as to make them fully equal to the originals in pulling power, and, of course, much more convenient and cheaper to put out.

Thanking you for this quality, service, its results, and for your unfailing courtesy and co-operation, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

The May Company,

By W.T.

¶ All that we have done for the above firm we can do for you, so long as your product has any color in its makeup. From a jar of mixed pickles to a Turkish rug, we can reproduce it absolutely true to the original.

¶ Imagine your goods shown in their natural colors, as compared with the usual black and white reproduction—then come and see us, phone for a representative or write us, and let us assist you in your particular needs.

DENVER CREMATORY, CHAPEL, AND OFFICE

Is Cremation Better Than Burial?

The custom of cremation is as old as civilization. ¶It was in general practice in the ancient world, except in Egypt where bodies were embalmed, in Judea where they were buried in sepulchres, and in China where they were buried in the earth. ¶In Greece, where civilization reached its highest in both arts and letters, the custom was so well established in public favor that the privilege of cremation was denied to what might be termed “undesirable citizens.” ¶The Greeks believed that only by fire could the body be dissolved and the soul released. ¶Cremation fell into disuse in the early part of the Christian era, because the Christians were persecuted and forbidden the privilege of performing their religious rites. Cremation could not be performed in secret, so earth burial was resorted to in order that the Christian service might be performed without detection. ¶Following this period came the crusades, when soldiers were buried on the battlefield simply because earth burial was the readiest means at hand. ¶Special equipment is necessary for cremation, and this fact has been the most potent reason for the practice of other methods.

¶There have been those who thought that cremation might not be consistent with the Christian doctrine of the resurrection of the dead. But "if this were true," says Lord Shaftesbury, "what would become of the blessed martyrs?" ¶Cremation has the endorsement of eminent bishops and clergymen of practically all religious beliefs. Such leaders of thought as Phillips Brooks, Edward Everett Hale, DeWitt Talmage, Charles A. Dana, David Starr Jordan, Mary O. Stanton, Frances E. Willard, Charles Francis Adams, and others, have been ardent advocates of cremation. ¶So strongly has the custom commended itself to leading men and women that societies have been formed in England, Germany, France and other foreign countries, for the encouragement of cremation. ¶In these societies members of the nobility, and men and women eminent in science and letters, are largely represented. ¶Cremation recommends itself particularly from a SANITARY standpoint. ¶Cremation simply does in 60 minutes what it takes the process of decomposition many years to perform. ¶The science of embalming can retard, but it cannot prevent, the ultimate return of the body to the elements whence it came. ¶If the thought of burial by fire is unpleasant, how much more revolting is the slow process of putrefaction? Cremation is a method of PURIFICATION, while earth burial is just the reverse. ¶Since the human body is 80% water, cremation is essentially a process of EVAPORATION. ¶How much better to float heavenward in a white cloud of vapor than to be imprisoned in a cold, dark grave, there to be mangled and devoured by the germs of decomposition. ¶A prominent clergyman gives the following description of a cremation that he had witnessed: "As we turned away from the incinerary, where we had left the body of our friend, it was pleasant to think of him still resting in its rosy light, surrounded by what seemed to us as floods of purity. It was grateful, too, to feel that whatever might remain after a brief hour of purifying work would be as he would wish it, clean and white, and, like his own pure self, without offense to thought or memory."

The cost of cremation for an adult is $50. The same kind of casket is used that would be required for earth burial except that it must not be of metal. The proper way to dispose of the ashes is to have them scattered, interred, or entombed in the family burial ground. There a memorial can be erected as a fitting tribute to the departed dead. However, if the family so desires, the ashes will be scattered by us on the cemetery lawn, or they may be scattered by some member or representative of the family.

Until a decision is arrived at as to the final disposition of the ashes they may be kept in our Columbarium at a nominal price. The cost of shipping ashes by express to any part of the United States seldom exceeds $1.

Send for our free illustrated booklet, which gives full particulars about cremation. It will be sent sealed in PLAIN envelope if it is so requested.

The Man Who Stood Still!

You pass him on the street every day. If you take one moment now, you can easily recall at least one man who reminds you of this picture. Day after day he follows in the same groove. There is no relief ahead for him from the ceaseless toil that he has known all through life. He is the man who stood still.

When He Had the Chance He Failed to Seize It

In his youth he allowed other young men, no smarter, no abler, no better than he, to crowd him out. One by one, his fellow workers passed him by, to better and more profitable work. They left him always standing on the threshold of success. But they left him behind. He heeded not the beckonings of opportunity. He is the man who stood still.

If You Are Standing Today Where He Stood Years Ago

Make your plans now for your life's work. You do not want to stand still and see your friends step ahead to enjoyable, well-paid, independent positions simply because they improved the same opportunities, the same chances that are offered you.

The Only Way to Do This Is Through Study

You are not going to be given a position of responsibility unless you can do the work, for positions always go to someone who knows how. Knowledge is the Great Leveler. There is no true independence where there is lack of training.

While You Have the Chance, Secure the Necessary Training

You will not have that chance ten years from now. It is a truly great opportunity to perfect yourself in some chosen line of work. Look again at the picture at the top of this page and make up your mind to take advantage of every possible chance for bettering yourself.
